

Contents

Editor's Notes	3
Address to the symposium by the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Foreign Affairs Ms Chris Gallus, MP	5
Features
Introduction: Political participation in the Pacific: issues of gender, race and religion Pamela Thomas	7
Why religion, race and gender matter in Pacific politics Bronwen Douglas	11
Religion and religious institutions as defining factors in Papua New Guinea politics Philip Gibbs	15
God's will in paradise: the politics of ethnicity and religion in Fiji Steven Ratuva	19
The changing face of racism and racial development in Fiji Scott MacWilliam	24
Gender issues in post coup d'etat Fiji: snapshots from the Fiji Islands P Imrana Jalal	28
Political participation in a fragmented democracy: ethnic and religious appeal in Papua New Guinea Henry Okole	31
Pathways to political participation in Fiji: gender, race and religion in sustainable community development and nation building Eci Nabalarua	35
To make a difference: realities of women's participation in Papua New Guinea politics Orovu Sepoe	39
Where are the women in Simbu politics? Abby McLeod	43
Gender and perceptions of political power in Papua New Guinea Dianne Korare	47
Winning and losing in politics: key issues in Papua New Guinea Carol Kidu and Susan Setae	51
Slo slo : increasing women's representation in parliament in Vanuatu Isabelle Donald, Jane Strachan, and Hilda Taleo	54
Fighting for a fair deal in national politics Afu Billy	58
Custom, chicanery and the myth of decolonisation in New Caledonia Susanna Ounei	62
Law, governance and civil society: revolution or evolution in the modernising Pacific? Stewart Fenwick	65

Contents

Interest, nations and the state in development: instability in archipelagic Southeast Asia Damien Kingsbury	69
Majelis Rakyat Papua—the Papuan People’s Assembly—and its significance in protecting the rights of the indigenous people of Papua Agus Sumule	73
Viewpoint
Debating the relationship between human rights and aid in Australia Jane Hearn and Susan Harris	77
Development research and policy formulation Ian Patrick	81
Conferences
Workshop report	85
Publications
Book review	87
New books
Reports and monographs	92
Resources
Organisations and programs	94
Web resources	97