

CONTENTS
DEVELOPMENT BULLETIN NO 65
INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVES ON AID EFFECTIVENESS

Editor's notes

Opening address

- Effective aid: A whole-of-government approach 5
The Hon. Chris Gallus MP, Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Foreign Affairs

Discussion

- Introduction: Summing up and the way forward
— a retrospective and prospective on aid effectiveness 7
Geoffrey Fox

Features

Reforming the structure of aid

- Aid effectiveness: Threats to the new 'consensus'? 11
Janet Hunt and Bill Morton, International Development, RMIT University, Melbourne

- Australian aid in the new millennium 16
Satish Chand, Asia Pacific School of Economics and Government, Australian National University

- Poverty-efficient official development assistance 22
Mark McGillivray, World Institute for Development Economics Research, Helsinki, Finland
Simon Feeny, School of Economics and Finance, RMIT University, Melbourne

- A contrarian view on aid effectiveness 27
Tim Curtin, Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, Australian National University

- Developing effective aid delivery frameworks within policy parameters 31
Anmmaree O'Keefe, AusAID

- Donor harmonisation for improved aid effectiveness 35
Michael Ward, Department for International Development, UK
Derek Sikua, Ministry of Education and Human Resources Development, Solomon Islands
Tony Banks, NZAID

- Aid and partnerships: The effectiveness of relationships 41
John Overton and Donovan Storey, Massey University, New Zealand

- Negotiating alternative economic strategies for regional development 46
Kathryn Robinson, Katherine Gibson, Deirdre McKay and Andrew McWilliam,
Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, Australian National University

Reviewing and reforming aid planning and practice

- A new framework for NGO effectiveness 51
Linda Kelly, Advisor, Australian Council for International Development

- Investing in aid effectiveness: The contexts and challenges for Australian NGOs 57
Rhonda Chapman, Australian Council for International Development

- Evaluating aid: A process for reflection, learning and change 63
Meg Keen and Sango Mahanty, Asia Pacific School of Economics and Government,
Australian National University

- Ten points for better monitoring and evaluation 68
Peter Ellis, AusAID

- Faith in international development: Evaluating the effectiveness of faith-based NGOs 72
Linda Kurti, Anna Whelan, Anthony Zwi, School of Public Health and Community Medicine,
University of New South Wales

Case studies: Perspectives on practice

Aid effectiveness and Australia's new interventionism in the Southwest Pacific Sinclair Dinnen, State, Society and Governance in Melanesia Project, Australian National University	76
Aid to the Pacific: Challenge for change Rodney Cole, Centre for South Pacific Studies, University of New South Wales	81
Judging success in a post-conflict environment — whose criteria? Solomon Islands CPRF as a case study Marjorie Sullivan, Resource Management in Asia Pacific, Australian National University Judi Pattison, Solomon Islands Community Peace and Restoration Fund	85
Aid effectiveness in rural Papua New Guinea: A long-term perspective R Michael Bourke, Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, Australian National University	90
A serious case of conditionality: The World Bank gets stuck in the forests of PNG Colin Filer, Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies, Australian National University	95
Reaching the peak: Contrasting experiences for NGOs in Solomon Islands and Papua New Guinea Felicity Pascoe, Centre for Democratic Institutions, Australian National University	100
Women in East Timor: Health crisis and aid priorities Lee Anne Henfry	105
Measuring the effectiveness of aid for Nepali health Terence Murphy, Consultant	109

Publications

New books
Journals
Reports

Resources

Organisations and programs
Web resources